Prachuap Khiri Khan is a province located in the lower central region connecting with the South of Thailand and possesses various interesting tourism attractions such as beaches, islands, forests and mountains. It was also an old seaside resort of the country since the reign of King Rama V. From historical evidence, Prachuap Khiri Khan was a location of Mueang Na Rang during the Ayutthaya period. In the reign of King Rama II of Rattanakosin, a new city was established at the mouth of the I Rom Canal and was named Mueang Bang Nang Rom. Moreover, during the reign of King Rama IV, Mueang Bang Nang Rom, Mueang Kui, and Mueang Khlong Wan were combined into Mueang Prachuap Khiri Khan which means a city where stand groups of mountains. The city hall was situated at Mueang Kui until 1898, then it was moved to Ao Ko Lak or Ao Prachuap, the location of Mueang Prachuap Khiri Khan nowadays.

Prachuap Khiri Khan covers an area of 6,367.620 square kilometres. It is a long and narrow coast stretching to the South. The narrowest part is from the border of Thailand and the Union of Myanmar on the West to the eastern sea coast at the Singkhon Pass, Khlong Wan sub-district, Mueang district, being a distance of approximately 12 kilometres. Its distance from the north to the south is approximately 212 kilometres. Its administration is divided into 8 districts; namely, Amphoe Mueang Prachuap Khiri Khan, Amphoe Hua Hin, Amphoe Pran Buri, Amphoe Kui Buri, Amphoe Thap Sakae, Amphoe Bang Saphan, Amphoe Bang Saphan Noi and Amphoe Sam Roi Yot

Boundary

North	borders Phetchaburi.
South	borders Chumphon.
East	borders the Gulf of Thailand.
West	borders the Tenasserim Range connecting the Union of Myanmar.

ATTRACTIONS

Amphoe Hua Hin (อำเภอหัวหิน)

Hua Hin Town (ตัวเมืองหัวหิน) is 195 kilometres from Bangkok and 90 kilometres prior to Mueang Prachuap Khiri Khan. Hua Hin Market is a large venue of various restaurants, souvenir shops and hotels. It is easily accessible by Sam Lo - three-wheeled pedal vehicle, Song Thaeo - minibus and rental car service provided to the centre of the district or nearby places.

Chatchai Market (ตลาดจั๊กไชย) is an old market of Hua Hin, which is well-known among both domestic and international tourists, located by Phetchakasem Road in Hua Hin town. This market was built in 1926 after the royal initiative of King Rama VII on the occasion of his first royal visit to Klai Kangwon Palace with Queen Rambhai Barni. The Chatchai Royal Family, by General Prince Purachatra of Kambaengbejr, had the market constructed and presented it to the king. The structure of the market was made of reinforced concrete with a 7-curved roof, symbolising its construction during the reign of King Rama VII. Nowadays, it is a marketplace of souvenirs, as well as fresh and preserved food.

Hua Hin Night Market (ตลาดโต้รุ่งหัวหิน) presents the colours of Hua Hin's nightlife and is a source of various kinds of food such as Thai dishes, seafood, Thai desserts, Roti, etc. Both Thai and foreign tourists usually visit this place. Moreover, there are plenty of souvenir shops located in this area.

Hua Hin Railway Station

Hua Hin Railway Station (สถานีรถไฟหัวหิน) The unique feature of this place is Phlapphla Phra Monkut klao which is a royal pavilion in a cruciform plan. It was constructed during the reign of King Rama VI, was originally called as Phlapphla Sanam Chan and situated at the Sanam Chan Palace in Nakhon Pathom province. This pavilion was originally for the king to watch the Wild Tiger Corps and boy scouts from all over the country conduct annual military practices. After his reign, the State Railway of Thailand removed and kept it in order to commemorate His honourable deeds in 1968. Colonel Saeng Chunlacharit, the governor of the State Railway of Thailand during that time, realised that the pavilion should be reconstructed in Hua Hin to be the royal train platform for His Majesty the King. The reconstruction was done by Thai craftsmen. During its opening ceremony on 6 April, 1974, it was renamed “Phlapphla Phra Mongkutklao” on 6 April, 1974, by Her Royal Highness Princess Bejaratana Rajasuda Sirisobhabannavadi. This railway station is considered as a very famous venue of Hua Hin. Moreover, it is a place collecting an ancient steam engine that the State Railway of Thailand bought from England. This steam engine was in service during the period prior to World War II. Contact Hua Hin Railway Station at Tel. 0 3251 1073.

Hat Hua Hin (ชายหาดหัวหิน) is located in the east of the town. The path to the beach is on Damnoen Kasem Road. On its both sides lie hotels and souvenir shops. The beach is approximately 5 kilometres long and covered with delicate and white sand, suitable for swimming.

Khao Hin Lek Fai (เขานินเหล็กไฟ) is located at Hua Hin sub-district, 3 kilometres to the west of Hua Hin town. It is a beautiful viewpoint to see the sunrise. The scenery can be admired in 4 directions. From this spot, the panoramic view of the town and Hua Hin Bay can be seen. Its summit comprises a beautiful plain and rock cliff. Moreover, there is a bird garden, a local handicraft centre, food and beverage shops, multi-purpose area abundant with plants in the literature located at its top. Besides, it is a place where the statue of King Rama VII stands. The appropriate period to visit this viewpoint is at dawn and dusk. Those wishing to use this area can contact the Hua Hin Municipality Office at Tel. 0 3251 1047.

Khao Hin Lek Fai

Baan Sillapin Hua Hin

Baan Sillapin Hua Hin (บ้านศิลป์หัวหิน) features an old wooden house located in Tambon Hin Lek Fai on a shady area of approximately 11 rai. It serves as an exhibition gallery for different fields of fine art; such as, paintings and sculpted objects by both professional and amateur artists throughout the year. Several pieces of the work of art are displayed at the entrance where there is a small but comfortable coffee corner. Inside is a painting gallery, mostly watercolour. An earth cottage exhibits a collection of sculptures. Baan Sillapin Hua Hin is open during 10.00 am.-5.00 p.m. on Tuesday-Sunday and closed on Monday. For further details, please call Tel. 0 3253 4830.

To get there: From Hua Hin, follow Highway 3218 across the railway for approximately 5 km. (the same route as Pa La-u). The gallery is on the right.

Wat Huai Mongkhon (วัดห้วยมงคล) is situated at Thap Tai Sub-district where the grand image of Luangpho Thuat with an inscription of H.M. the Queen's initials So Ko is enshrined. From the area, the surrounding scenery and the Tenasserim Range, bordering Thailand and the Union of Myanmar can be admired. It is open from 5.00 a.m.-9.00 p.m. For further information, contact Tel. 0 3257 6187

To get there: From Hua Hin, take Highway No. 3218 (Nong Phlap-Pa La-u) for 14 kilometres to Thap Tai Sub-district, turn left at Nong Taphao Intersection and go further along the route to Wat Huai Mongkhon.

Hua Hin Hills Vineyard (ไร่ภูหินหัวหิน ฮิลล์ วินยาร์ด) is the first and only vineyard in Hua Hin located at No. 204 Ban Khok Chang Phatthana, Tambon Nong Phlap, on a seaside area where a herd of wild Asian elephants used to be domesticated. Its good soil and climate contribute to the growth of 20 fine varieties of grape here; such as, Colombard, Chenin Blanc, Shiraz, Brunello and several others, all yielding aromatic and extraordinary fruits that are produced into concentrated wines. In addition to producing Thai wines of fine quality for the Siam Winery Company Limited, the vineyard has been developed into a new wine destination that attracts Thais as well as foreigners who seek different experiences and activities. Grapevines of different varieties are grown orderly on a vast area of 220 rai out of a total of 1,000 rai, surrounded by mountain ranges that lend a warm and romantic atmosphere. There is 'The Sala', a tourist centre that was inspired by traditional Thai art where visitors can enjoy tasting wine free of charge while being informed about wines and viniculture by the staff of the Siam Winery. Visitors coming in groups and wishing to taste all wines will be charged Bt 150 each. Moreover, a wedding party or honeymoon for lovers, or parties of other natures in this vineyard are also available. The ideal period for a visit is during February-March of every year, as it is the harvest season. An elephant tour around the vineyard is provided in 15-minute rounds, each costing Bt 20 (Bt 800 for 1 hour). Other available activities include planting a grapevine and cutting the grapes. There is a restaurant in the vineyard, which is open during 11.00 a.m.-6.00 p.m.

and closed on Monday. For more information, please contact Tel. 08 4874 0775, 08 1701 8874, 0 3252 6351, Fax. 0 3252 6352, Bangkok Office Tel. 0 2533 5600, or visit www.huahinhillsvineyard.com.

To get there: From Hua Hin Market, cross the railway and follow Highway 3218 (the same route as Pa La-u) for approximately 14 km. until reaching Nong Taphao Junction (Wat Huai Mongkhon Junction). Turn into Highway 3219 and continue for some 12 km., then, turn left into Highway 3301 for another 8.5 km. until reaching Khok Chang School. Turn right for another 1.5 km. to the vineyard.

Namtok Pa La-u (น้ำตกป่าละอู) is situated at Huai Sat Yai sub-district within the compound of Pa La-u forest, covering an area of 273,125 rai. It is abundant with verdant plants and various kinds of wild animals. Pa La-u is within the compound of Kaeng Krachan National Park and under the responsibility of the Namtok Pa La-u Ranger Station of the Department of National Park, Wildlife and Flora, situated 2 kilometres prior to the waterfall and near the reservoir. Namtok Pa La-u comprises Namtok La-u Yai and Namtok La-u Noi, beautifully cascading down the 11 different tiers. There is water running throughout the year and it is suitable for swimming. Moreover, it is an attraction where there are plenty of butterflies. The appropriate period to travel is during November to April and in the early morning due to the comfortable coolness and an opportunity to see a variety of wild animals, as well as, rare birds.

To get there: From Hua Hin Market, there is an intersection on Phetchakasem Road to the west. Take Highway No. 3219 to the end of the road for approximately 63 kilometres. Turn right into Fa Prathan village and continue further for 4 kilometres. A Song Thaeo - mini bus can be rented for a round trip at Chom Sin Road for 1,600 Baht. Tourists will have to pay the entrance fee to the national park, which is 200 Baht for an adult and

Namtok Pa Ea-u

100 Baht for a child. In case that visitors would like to stay overnight, the park provides 15 bungalows: 1,200-3,000 Baht, tents for 2-4 persons: 120-250 Baht a night or a camping area: 30 Baht / person / night. Contact the Kaeng Krachan National Park Ranger Station at Huai Pa Lao, Hua Hin district, Prachuap Khiri Khan 77110 or the Kaeng Krachan National Park, Kaeng Krachan District, Phetchaburi, Tel. 0 3245 9293 or the Department of National Park, Wildlife and Flora, Bang Khen District, Bangkok, Tel. 0 2562 0760 or www.dnp.go.th

San Phra Phrom (ศาลพระพรหม) is located on Maha Chai Hill, Nong Kae sub-district, 5 kilometres from Hua Hin town to the south. Dr. Phutsadi Chitchum had this shrine renovated. The renovation was completed in 1999. Its construction aims to present doctrines through symbols. It is open daily to the public. Besides, the scenery of the beach and town can be seen from this spot.

Khao Takiap, Khao Krailat (เขาตะเกียบ เขาไกรลาส) are two mountains standing side by side, 14 kilometres from Hua Hin district to the south. Turn left at Km. 235 of Phetchakasem Road for approximately 500 metres. From Hua Hin Market, there is a bus service between Hua Hin Khao Krailat - Khao Takiap.

Khao Takiap is a beautiful cliff-hanging rock mountain projecting over the sea. Its summit is an enshrining place of a large standing Buddha image in the posture of persuading relatives from quarrelling, standing at the summit and facing towards the sea. There is a path to the top of the mountain, where visitors can clearly admire the scenery of the beach and Hua Hin town. Khao Takiap Beach is 1.5 kilometres long. It is not steep and full of delicate white sand. There are various restaurants, accommodation and souvenir shops along the beach.

Suan Son Pradiphat (สวนสนประดิพัทธ์) is 9 kilometres from Hua Hin along Phetchakasem Road. At the intersection at Km. 240 on Phetchakasem Road, turn right for 500 metres. There is a bus service provided every 20 minutes. Travelling by train, visitors can get off at the Suan Son Pradiphat stop. There is the Thon Buri - Prachuap Khiri Khan Route, departing at 1.10 p.m. and arriving at Suan Son at 6.10 p.m. (other express trains and rapid trains do not stop at this spot.) Suan Son Pradiphat is under the supervision of the Infantry Training Command, Pran Buri. There is accommodation in the forms of a hotel, bungalows, row houses, and houses provided. For further information, contact Tel.0 3253 6582-3 or Fax. 0 3253 6584.

Ko Singto (เกาะสิงโต) is approximately 800 metres on the east side of Suan Son Pradiphat. It is a small island in the shape of a lion crouching and facing to the north. It is suitable for those who like fishing. Tourists can rent a boat at Khao Takiap village. It takes 45 minutes to get here and costs 2,500 Baht/ a boat/ 5 persons. Otherwise, taking a boat for fishing and catching squid is 3,500 Baht/ a boat/ 10 persons. Contact Khun Noi at Tel. 0 3253 6079, 08 1705 9358.

Khao Tao (เขาเต่า) is located at Nong Kae sub-district, 13 kilometres from Hua Hin district. At the crossroads on Km. 243-244 on Phetchakasem Road, turn left and cross the railway track for approximately 1 kilometre to Wat Khao Tao. There is a bus service between Hua Hin - Pran Buri. Get off the bus at the entrance of the temple and continue with a motorbike. In case of travelling as a big group, it is more convenient for the visitors to rent a Song Tao - minibus from Hua Hin town. Within the compound of Khao Tao, there are two nice and clean beaches; namely, Hat Sai Noi and Hat Sai Yai. Moreover, there is a small island near the coast. On the island are various kinds of shells piling up into layers, as well as, a large Buddha image facing towards the sea.

Thanarat Infantry Camp (ค่ายธนรัชต์) is a military camp covering an area of approximately 600,000 rai, located on Phetchakasem Road, 237 kilometres from Bangkok (by taking the Thon Buri - Pak Tho Route).

Khao Takiap

Within the camp's compound, there is the Memorial Building of Field Marshall Sarit Thanarat, a collection venue of his biography, past works, clothes and personal belongings, the Orders and Decorations of Thailand and other countries, Infantry Museum, exhibiting ancient weapons of various periods, and Tha Sadet, located by the Pran Buri River in the west of the camp, 12 kilometres from Phetchakasem Road. It is a natural relaxation space, where there are decorative and flowering plants, as well as those in Thai literature, and adventurous activities such as tower jumping, cliff climbing, shooting, fishing, camping, etc. Thanarat Infantry Camp was granted the Award of Excellence for the Conservation and Preservation Organisation in the 2002 Thailand Tourism Awards due to its beautiful location, suitability for tourism, as well as, readiness in its organisation of attractive activities and its efficient system. (Visitors who wish to stay overnight in the camp should contact 2 weeks in advance). For further information, contact Thanarat Infantry Camp Tourism Office at Tel. 0 3255 5158.

Amphoe Pran Buri (อำเภอปราณบุรี)

Ban Fang Tha Wildlife Conservation Village (หมู่บ้านอนุรักษ์พันธุ์สัตว์ป่าบ้านฝั่งท่า) is located at Mu 5 Tambon Wang Phong, featuring agrotourism activities. A long-tailed boat can be rented to travel along the Pran Buri River and enjoy the scenery of the mangrove forest as well as its flora and fauna that have been conserved, and also the fisherman's way of life. The boat trip takes approximately 1½ hours. The boat rental is Bt 800 / boat / 6-8 persons (rate depending on the number of passengers). Visitors can also walk around the village to tour fruit orchards where aromatic coconut, pineapple, pomelo, sapodilla, mango, and banana are grown in the form of mixed cultivation. Homestay accommodation is available. Please call Tel. 0 3262 3003, 08 6068 7799.

Khao Chaomae Thapthim Thong (เขาเจ้าแม่ทับทิมทอง) is a very beautiful viewpoint overlooking the Pran Buri River and Pak Nam Pran village. Moreover, it is the location of the Chaomae Thapthim Thong Shrine where there is a statue of Chaomae Thian Ho Xia Bo or Chaomae Thapthim Thong which is sacred and highly respected among the locals.

Hat Pran Buri (ชายหาดปราณบุรี) is a long beach connecting with Hua Hin Beach. It comprises Pran Buri Forest Park and a splendid beach stretching to the Khao Sam Roi Yot National Park. Although it is near Hua Hin, it is very serene and shady. There are various kinds of accommodation provided.

Pak Nam Pran Village (หมู่บ้านปากน้ำปราณ) is situated at Pak Nam Pran sub-district at the mouth of the Pran River. Pak Nam Pran is a spot where the river runs into the sea. Most of the local people are fishermen; therefore, this village is a marketplace of low-priced seafood. The famous seafood product of this place is fresh squid, 1-day sun-dried squid, sun-dried squid, shrimp paste, dried shrimps, etc.

Hat Naresuan or Hat Khao Kalok (หาดนเรศวร หรือ หาดเขากะโหลก) is 7 kilometres from the mouth of the Pran River to the south. The path to the beach is between Km. 253-254 (opposite the Thanarat Infantry Camp and Pran Buri District Office). Turn into the path for 3 kilometres, turn left again at the T-junction for 2 kilometres, pass Wat Na Huai and turn right for a further 6 kilometres. The beach is clean and calm, and covered with light brown sand. In its south stands a small mountain similar to a skull - kalok - which is the origin of the mountain's name. Khao Kalok is in the area of the Thao Kosa Forest Park. At its viewpoint, visitors can admire the surroundings of the nice beach. Moreover, there are various kinds of accommodation and seafood restaurants provided.

Pa Khao Chao (ป่าเขาจ้าว) is located at Khao Chao Sub-district. Take Phetchakasem Road until reaching Km. 253, go for approximately 4 kilometres to the similar way as Khao Chao Reservoir. It is an abundant western forest area of Pran Buri District, with plenty of butterflies. Interesting attractions are Namtok Phraek Takhro, Namtok Phraek Talui, Namtok Inthanin, Namtok Huai Kop, the Karen hilltribe village, a route through local farms, and the Phran Buri Dam. Some parts of the forest are steep suitable for four-wheel drive vehicles and adventure lovers. For convenience, visitors should bring their own personal cars. For further information, contact the Khao Chao Sub-district Administration Organization at Tel. 0 3262 3122 or Fax. 0 3262 2756.

Pran Buri Dam (เขื่อนปราณบุรี) is situated at Nong Ta Taem Sub-district, Km. 253, 12 kilometres from the entrance to Phetchakasem Road and 20 kilometres from the Pran Buri District Office. It is an earthfill dam obstructing the Pran Buri River. The ridge of the dam is 1,500 metres long, 8 metres wide and 42 metres high. It is a valley with beautiful scenery. Its river is stretching along the agricultural area of Pran Buri, Kui Buri and Mueang Districts for approximately 65 kilometres.

Pran Buri Dam

Pran Buri Forest Park (วนอุทยานปรางบุรี) was originally under the Royal project of H.M. Queen Sirikit. Originally, it was designated as the Pa Khlong Kao and Khlong Khoi National Forest Reserve, covering an area of 1,984 rai, comprising mangrove forests and the Pran Buri River, running through the centre of the forest area. At present, the Royal Forest Department of Thailand has acclaimed it as a forest park covering an area of 700 rai and is under the supervision of the Phetchaburi Forest Office, Protected Areas Regional Office 4, Department of National Park, Wildlife and Flora. Pran Buri Forest Park possesses a white sandy beach that is shady with a 1-kilometre line of pine trees on the east of the park. Moreover, from the park, the scenery of the sea, Ko Singto, Khao Takiap and Khao Tao can be admired. Interesting spots are as follows:

Mangrove Nature Study Route and Cruising. There is an elevated wooden bridge constructed for visitors to closely study the natural resources, and ecology of the mangrove forest. Along the path of 1,000 metres stand many information signs. Moreover, there is a small pier connecting with the path where visitors can take a boat, admire the natural beauty, study the ecology of the mangrove forests, view various kinds of plants, and experience the lifestyle of the locals living along the canals. It costs 350 Baht (8 persons) and takes 40 minutes.

The forest park provides accommodation, welfare shop, and camping area. For further information, please contact the Pran Buri Forest Park, Mu 1, Pak Nam Pran Sub-district, Pran Buri District, Prachuap Khiri Khan 77220, Tel. 0 3262 1608, 08 9787 4812 (for cruising), 08 1682 6674, 08 1763 9652 (for restaurants) (8.00 a.m.-4.00 p.m.).

Khao Sam Roi Yot

Amphoe Sam Roi Yot (อำเภอสามร้อยยอด)

Hat Sam Roi Yot (Hat Nom Sao) (หาดสามร้อยยอด หรือ หาดนมสาว) is located at Khao Daeng Sub-district. It is a very serene beach with nice surroundings, shady with pine trees by the beach. The water is shallow and it is good for swimming. On its south lie various islands such as Ko Kho Ram, Ko Nom Sao, Ko Rawing and Ko Rawang. Visitors can take a boat travelling around the islands and do snorkelling. There are resorts and accommodation on the beach provided. To get there: From Phetchakasem Road, turn left at Km. 254 (the entrance to Khao Kalok) until reaching Wat Phu Noi. Turn left at the Disaster Prevention and Mitigation Regional Centre 4 until reaching a small crossroads to the beach.

Khao Sam Roi Yot National Park (อุทยานแห่งชาติ เขาสามร้อยยอด) is situated in Kui Buri District and Sam Roi Yot District, 63 kilometres south of Hua Hin. According to legend, this area was once an ocean where there were various islands. During that time, there was a group of junks from China sailing that were shipwrecked by a storm.

There were 300, in Thai language Sam Roi, survivors from this event, who separated and lived on various islands. Therefore, it has been called 'Ko Sam Roi Yot'. After that it was deviated into 'Khao Sam Roi Yot' until the present time.

Khao Sam Roi Yot National Park covers a total area of approximately 98 square kilometres or 61,300 rai. It comprises high and steep limestone mountains by the beach and a wet mud plain beach combining with shallow sea, as well as, limestone islets lined up near the shore, where various kinds of birds reside during November and February. It was acclaimed a national park on 28 June 1966 as the fourth national park of the country and the first marine national park of Thailand. Within the compound of the national park, there are the following attractions:

Khao Daeng Viewpoint (จุดชมวิวนาแดง) is situated at Ban Khao Daeng on the summit of Khao Daeng. The appropriate time to admire the scenery is from 5.30 to 7.00 a.m. because the sunrise and the surroundings will be the most beautiful. Visitors can admire the view of Khao Sam Roi Yot, Sam Phraya Beach and houses. At the foot of Khao Daeng, there is a tourist information centre. To get there: Walk from the Office of the National Park for 500 metres or drive to Khao Daeng village until reaching the crossroads on the left. Park the car and walk for approximately 725 metres or 1 hour.

Khlong Khao Daeng Pier (จุดลงเรือคลองนาแดง) is suitable for cruising to admire the scenery and various kinds of animals in the mangrove forest ecology. Tourists can rent a boat from Khao Daeng and Bang Pu villages and board at the pier in front of Wat Khao Daeng. The cruise will go along the canal for 3-4 kilometres. The boat will take a shortcut through a mangrove forest to Ban Khao Daeng fishing village of nearly 100 years old. An array of fishing boats of bright colours berthing at the pier can be seen against the clear blue sky. The boating route terminates at the estuary before returning along the same route, taking a total of $1\frac{1}{2}$ hours. The ideal time of the day for boating is during 4.00-5.00 p.m. when it is not hot and a scenic view of the setting sun can be admired. Moreover, Khlong Khao Daeng is a picturesque route for kayaking by nature and outdoor activity lovers.

Hat Sam Phraya (หาดสามพระยา) is 5 kilometres from the Office of the National Park. It is a white sandy shady beach with a 1- kilometre line of pine trees. At the beginning and the end of the beach stand limestone mountains on both sides, and it is also suitable for swimming and camping. Moreover, restaurants and toilets are provided at the beach.

Tham Sai (ถ้ำไทร) is in the Khung Tanot village, 9 kilometres from the Office of the National Park. Parking can be done in the compound of the village near the foot of the mountain and walk further up to the cave for approximately 280 metres. At the first part of the cave stands the Bayan or Sai tree that is the origin of the name of the cave. In the later part, there are various spots of stalagmites and stalactites. Interesting spots in the cave are Bokkhorani pond, a stalagmite and stalactite room, a room of seven-colour curtains, dry waterfall, the statue of Ta Oep, the first person who discovered this cave, Noina pond, and a stone in a dome shape. Inside the cave is quite dark. Tourists can rent a lamp or a flashlight from the locals at Khung Tanot village.

Tham Kaeo (ถ้ำแก้ว) is at the Hup Chan Valley, 16 kilometres from the Office of the National Park to Bang Pu village. Turn left passing the shrimp farm until the end of the dirt road and walk further to the entrance of the cave. Within the cave lie glittering stalagmites and stalactites. It is very dark inside and quite dangerous because there is a very deep abyss. A lamp and a leading officer of the national park are obligatory.

Thung Sam Roi Yot (ทุ่งสามร้อยยอด) is in the west of the national park. It is a large fresh water pond covered with plants such as giant reeds and slender sedges.

Therefore, it is a residence of a variety of migratory birds such as egrets, cormorants, common moorhens, purple herons, purple swamp hens, etc. Cruising to admire the nature on a punting boat, canoeing, bird watching, taking photos or, doing research can be done. The suitable period is during November to December because there will be plenty of birds and lotuses.

Hat Laem Sala (หาดแหลมศาลา) is at Khao Thian, 16 kilometres from the Office of the National Park. At the beach, there is a tourist information centre and a bathing room. The beach is at the entrance to Tham Phraya Nakhon. Hat Laem Sala is a cape, stretching to the sea with mountains on both sides. It is a good place for swimming.

To get there: From Pran Buri - Pak Nam Pran Buri Road, turn right to the Office of the National Park and go straight on until reaching Ban Bang Pu crossroads. Turn left at Ban Bang Pu and cross the bridge over the Bang Pu Canal to the foot of Khao Thian. After that, walk across the mountain for 480 metres to the Laem Sala. Otherwise, rent a boat from Ban Bang Pu to Laem Sala Beach, which takes 30 minutes.

Tham Phraya Nakhon (ถ้ำพระยานคร) is 500 metres from Hat Laem Sala and 17 kilometres to the north of the Office of the National Park. Tourists can travel by renting a boat from Bang Pu village. Restaurants are provided at Hat Bang Pu. It takes 30 minutes and costs 250 Baht a boat for 8 persons. Otherwise, walk across Khao Thian for a distance of 530 metres. From the beach there is a path leading up to the Phraya Nakhon Cave. Along the way lies a trapezoid pond constructed with burned bricks with a width of 1 metre and a depth of 4 metres, called "Bo Phraya Nakhon". Historically, it is told that during the reign of King Rama I, Chao Phraya Nakhon, ruler of Nakhon Si Thammarat City, travelling by boat passing the entrance of Khao Sam Roi Yot, faced a big storm and could not continue his journey. Therefore, he stopped here for several days and had this pond built for containing drinking water. "Tham Phraya Nakhon" is a large cave whose ceiling has a chimney letting sunlight pass through. The distinguish point of this cave is "Phrathinang Khuha Kharuehat", a cruciform-plan pavilion constructed during the reign of King Rama V on his royal visit on 20 June, 1890. The pavilion was built by His Royal Highness Prince Khachon Charatwong in Bangkok. Later, it was taken to be reconstructed here by Phraya Chonlayut Yothin. King Rama V came to attend the ceremony of raising the Chofa, the Naga - shaped gable finial himself. On the stone wall on the right side are inscribed two large distinguish white royal initials of King Rama V and King Rama VII. The pavilion is the most outstanding spot of this cave and is also the symbol of Prachuap Khiri Khan at present.

The park provides accommodation at Khao Daeng and Hat Laem Sala, as well as, tents for rent. For further information, please contact the Department of National Park, Wildlife and Flora, Bang Khen District, Bangkok, Tel. 0 2562 0760 or www.dnp.go.th or Khao Sam Roi Yot National Park, Khao Daeng Sub-district, Kui Buri District, Prachuap Khiri Khan 77150 or Tel. 0 3261 9078, 0 3282 1568.

To get there:

By car: From Phetchakasem Road (Highway No. 4) to Pran Buri crossroads, turn left along the Pran Buri - Pak Nam Pran Buri Road for 8 kilometres, turn right for 16 kilometres, pass the Ban Bang Pu Intersection and go straight on for 4 kilometres. At the T-junction, turn left again for 5 kilometres to the Office of the National Park. Otherwise, from Phetchakasem Road at Km. 286 (near Ban Samrong, 6 kilometres prior to Kui Buri District), turn left for 14 kilometres to the Office of the National Park.

By bus: Get off at Pran Buri District and continue with a Song Thaeo - a minibus between Pran Buri - Ban Bang Pu. From Ban Bang Pu, rent another Song Thaeo to the Office of the National Park.

Amphoe Kui Buri (อำเภอกุยบุรี)

Luangpho To of Wat Tan Chet Yot (หลวงพ่อโต วัดตาลเจ็ดยอด) is a life-like image of Somdet Phra Phutthachan (To Phrommarangsi), measuring 11 m. across the lap and 18 m. high, considered to be his largest cast image in the world. In front of this image, there are life-size statues of several other revered monk masters; such as, Phra Achan Man, Luangpu Thuat, Luangpu Suk, Luangpu Sot, and also Buddha images. Wat Tan Chet Yot is located in Tambon Salalai and was named after the village Tan Chet Yot, whose name derived from the fact that there used to be a toddy palm tree or Tan with 7 tops -Chet Yot, which was cut during the construction of the southern railway line before 1957. The temple's landscape has been improved to be shady and have a relaxing atmosphere to welcome visitors.

Kui Buri National Park (อุทยานแห่งชาติกุยบุรี) covers Sam Roi Yot District, Pran Buri District, Kui Buri District and Mueang District, being an area of 969 square kilometres. It is an undulated mountain range. The ridge lies from the North to the South and is a part of the Tanaosi mountain range. It is densely covered with trees of an economic value, headwaters of Prachuap Khiri Khan's Kui Buri River, and a habitat for various kinds of fauna. It comprises dry and humid evergreen forests and plenty of wild animals due to the water resources and abundant food. Wild animals residing in the park include wild elephants, gaurs, bantengs, sambars, bears, common barking deer, Asian tapirs, gibbons, monkeys, langurs, etc. The Kui Buri Forest was a royal project under His Majesty the King's initiatives to turn pineapple plantations into a fertile forest that serves as a source of food for wild animals. It was declared a national park on 25 March, 1999, and includes many places of interest; such as, Namtok Dong Mafai (น้ำตกดงมะไฟ) is situated within the Kui Buri National Park and is the origin of the Kui Buri River. Namtok Dong Mafai has 15 tiers of granite cataracts with water flowing throughout the year. The period when there is a lot of water is during August to December. The most beautiful tiers are from the 8th to the 15th. The 14th is a large cliff with a waterfall dropping down to the basin below, being a height of 10 metres. Moreover, it is abundant with various kinds of plants such as ferns, orchids and moss. It is also a viewpoint to see the wreathed hornbills flying through the top of the trees, creating a sound similar to that of an airplane. Additionally, there is a giant 200-year-old Hopea timber tree whose branch is covered by a banyan tree, while at its top stick the Bird's Nest Ferns and orchids. A large number of Mafai Pa trees - a wild species of Baccaurea are scattered in this area and influence the name of this waterfall.

Namtok Pha Ma Hon (น้ำตกผาหมาฮอน) is a three-tiered waterfall with a nearly vertically steep cliff and clear water flowing vigorously throughout the year. At its centre lies a large basin where there are a lot of plants such as various kinds of ferns, and palm trees. It is suitable for trekking to study the nature and relax.

Namtok Dan Makha (น้ำตกด่านมะค่า) is a waterfall originating from the Kui Buri River, measuring about 6-7 m. high, and located some 5 km. from the Kui Buri National Park Headquarters.

Namtok Pha sawan (น้ำตกผาสวรรค์) is a 5-tiered waterfall originating from the Kui Buri River and located about 7 km. from the National Park's Headquarters. The 5th tier is the most beautiful one and measures approximately 7 m. high.

Wild Elephant Watching Platform (จุดชมวิวช้างป่า) is located some 20 km. from the Park's Headquarters, with scenic nature, mountains and local way of life along the way. In addition to wild elephants, visitors may also have a chance to see gaur, Fea's barking deer, spectacled langur, etc., feeding around 3.00-6.00 p.m. Please contact the National Park's officer in advance.

Nature Study Route (เส้นทางเดินศึกษาธรรมชาติ) features a trekking route for nature-lovers to enjoy and learn about the natural surroundings. Visitors may see varieties of butterflies, birds, insects, as well as rare plants like Chan Hom or Tarennia fragrans whose wood was consecrated and used to make a funeral urn for the late Princess Galyani Vadhana.

The Park also provides public activities for visitors coming in groups; such as, making an artificial salt-lick for elephants and wildlife for a group of approximately 60-100 persons at about Bt 1,500 (for materials), growing food for wildlife (grasses), building a check dam at Bt 2,500 / dam (for materials), and growing plants to form a buffer line against wild elephants.

To get there: From Bangkok, go along Phetchakasem Road, at the Km. 290 or 3 kilometres prior to the Kui Buri District Office, turn right into Highway No. 3217, passing Ban Yang Chum into the Yang Chum Reservoir Project. Turn left before reaching the project and go along the path to the Yan Sue Village until the end of the path. Turn left for 2 kilometres to the Office of the National Park. (The distance from Kui Buri to the Office of the National Park is 35 kilometres.)

Accommodation: There is no accommodation provided in the park. Visitors who wish to stay overnight can contact the Office for camping. They have to bring their own tents and food

Accommodation: The Park provides 2 houses at Bt 1,800 (with 3 bedrooms, 2 toilets, a hall, and kitchen). For those wishing to stay close to nature, a camping site is allotted with a fee of Bt 30 / night / tent for those bringing their own tents. A tent and sleeping gear is available for rent, as follows: a tent for 2 persons at Bt 150 / night, a tent for 4 persons at Bt 300 / night, a sleeping bag at Bt 30 / night, a blanket at Bt 20 / night, and a pillow at Bt 10 / night. Admission is Bt 200 for adults and Bt 100 for children. For further information, contact the Kui Buri National Park, P.O. Box 10, Kui Buri Post Office, Kui Buri District, Prachuap Khiri Khan 77150 or Tel. 0 3264 6292

Amphoe Mueang Prachuap Khiri Khan (อำเภอเมืองประจวบคีรีขันธ์)

Hat Bo Nok (หาดบ่อนอก) is a 7-km. long white sandy beach located in Tambon Bo Nok. It features clear blue sea and a not too deep shore ideal for swimming. There is a road running parallel to the beach, with coconut groves and shrimp farms along one side and fisherman's huts and fishing boats at intervals along the other, lending a lively atmosphere to beach strollers, especially at the sunrise in the early morning. In addition, surfacing whales will be noticeable frequently, each time for approximately 3 hours, during August-October. They can be watched through binoculars from the coast or nearer on a chartered fishing boat. The whales are Bruda whales with a black body measuring approximately 4 m. wide and 10-12 m. long, having a tapering mouth and white colour on the belly and under the chin. They are usually good-tempered and familiar with humans, and like to swim alongside passing fishing boats. This kind of whale feeds in a tropical zone like Myanmar, India, and Thailand's Gulf of Thailand, Prachuap Khiri Khan Province, and Phetchaburi Province. A flock of Bruda whales feeding in this area indicates that Bo Nok is one of the much fertile seas in the Gulf of Thailand.

Prachuap Khiri Khan City Pillar Shrine (ศาลหลักเมืองประจวบคีรีขันธ์) is located on Sala Chip Road, opposite the city hall. It was constructed in the Lop Buri style of art during the period when Pol. Sub-Lt. Amnuai Thaiyanon was governor of the province. His Majesty the King had HRH Crown Prince Maha Vajiralongkorn attend the opening ceremony of this shrine on 20 August, 1994. The shrine is the symbol of auspices and prosperity of the city.

Wat Ao Noi (Tham Phra Non) (วัดอ่าวน้อย หรือ อ่าวพระนอน) is situated at Ao Noi Sub-district, at the foot of the hill near Ao Noi. Before reaching the centre of Mueang Prachuap Khiri Khan, there is a by-road, 3 kilometres from Phetchakasem Road Km. 314. Within the compound of the temple is a small cave where a reclining Buddha image is enshrined. In the past, this temple was a shelter from storms for the fishermen.

Ao Noi, Ao Prachuap Khiri Khan (อ่าวน้อย, อ่าวประจวบคีรีขันธ์) is in front of the Mueang Prachuap Khiri Khan. It possesses beautiful surroundings suitable for exercises such as jogging or cycling by the beach. There is a beach-side road connecting Ao Noi and Ao Prachuap together. There is a line of pine trees at Ao Noi, while at Ao Prachuap, there is a pedestrian path to closely admire the beach and for selecting various restaurants.

Khao Chong Krachok (เขาช่องกระเจก) is a small mountain where a large number of stump-tailed macaques reside. Its entrance is behind the City Hall with 396 steps to the summit, being a height of 245 metres from sea level. It is the location of Wat Khao Chong Krachok where a replica of the Buddha's footprint and the relics of the Buddha, which the King came to attend its containing ceremony on 12 June, 1958, and planted a Bodhi tree, are enshrined. There is an annual celebratory ceremony on 12 June. In the north of the mountain, there is a large hole similar to a mirror frame which has influenced the name of the mountain. From the summit, there is a pavilion for relaxation where visitors can view the splendid scenery of the centre of the city, the three bays and various islands.

Wat Ao Noi (Tham Phra Non)

To get there:

By car: From Highway No. 4 (Phetchakasem Road) Km. 320, turn left into Amphoe Mueang Prachuap Khiri Khan and cross the railway track for 2 kilometres, passing the province sports stadium. Go straight on for 500 metres to Wat Thammikaram. The starting point to Khao Chong Krachok is on the right of the temple.

By bus: Get off at the bus terminal and continue by taking the motorcycle service.

By train: Get off at Prachuap Khiri Khan Railway Station and continue with a Sam Lo or a service motorcycle.

Ao Manao (อ่าวมะนาว) is under the supervision of Wing 5, the Royal Thai Air Force. It is a clean beach with beautiful nature suitable for swimming. Opposite the beach stands Khao Lom Muak. At ebb tide, a long sand bar will appear and can be walked along. At the summit of Khao Lom Muak, there is a replica of the Buddha's footprint. Moreover, at the foot of the mountain stands a shrine of Chaopho Khao Lom Muak. It is also the location of the Spectacled Langur Preservation Area. Ao Manao was once a battlefield in World War II between the Thai and Japanese armies. At present, within the compound of the Wing, there is a hero statue, a replica of an air force soldier standing on a propeller holding a flag and facing towards the sea, Wing 5 Historical Park, a large stone engraved into the scene of the fight between the Thai and the Japanese armies at Ao Manao. There is an annual ceremony to commemorate the heroic deeds of 8 December, 1941. Tourists can relax and swim at the beach. Moreover, there are restaurants, a club, and various forms of accommodation provided such as town houses, condominium, etc. For further information, please contact the Public Relations Department of Wing 5, Tel. 0 3266 1087-8, 0 3261 1017 ext: 60464, 60461 or visit www.wing5.raf.mi.th (Reserve 1 month in advance). Please deliver a letter in advance for a group visit.

To get there:

By car: From Mueang Prachuap Municipality, go to the south along Sala Chip Road until reaching the T-junction to Highway No. 3167, and pass the airport of Wing 53 to Ao Manao, a distance of 15 kilometres. Otherwise from Ao Prachuap, take the road along the beach.

By bus: Get off at the Prachuap Khiri Khan Bus Terminal and continue with the service motorcycle.

By train: Get off at the Prachuap Khiri Khan Railway Station and continue with the service motorcycle.

King Mongkut Memorial Park of Science and Technology at Wa Ko (อุทยานวิทยาศาสตร์พระจอมเกล้า ณ หว้ากอ) is a significant place to Thai science history. It was because King Rama IV had made his astronomical forecast 2 years in advance on a total solar eclipse at Wa Ko. The king together with scientists and diplomats of various countries also made a trip to witness his forecast on 18 August, 1868. On 16 May, 1989, the Cabinet approved in principle on the establishment of the King Mongkut Memorial Park of Science and Technology. On 3 May, 1990, H.M. King Bhumibol granted its name as 'King Mongkut Memorial Park of Science and Technology at Wa Ko, Prachuap Khiri Khan' to commemorate

Ao Noi, Ao Prachuap Khiri Khan

King Mongkut's honour, the Father of Thai Science. Later, the Ministry of Education acclaimed it as an educational institute under the Department of Non-formal Education on 16 June, 1993.

The compound of the park comprises many spots as follows:

Astronomy Buildings (อาคารดาราศาสตร์), a group of three-storey buildings connecting to one another; namely, Phanthiwathit, Phanphinit Chantra and Dara Thatsani Buildings, as well as, 11 learning bases such as Hall of Fame, Future World, Technology for Professions, Children's World, Sky at Wa Ko, the Father of Thai Science, Human Beings and Stars, Thai Kings and Astrology, Solidarity of the Prachuap People, the Cosmic Order and the World of Fixed Stars and Universe System, Space Development and Future of Human Beings.

Wa Ko Marine Life Museum (พิพิธภัณฑ์สัตว์น้ำห้วยวกอ) is a museum exhibiting marine life such as sea fish, fresh-water fish and brackish water fish. Moreover, there is an underwater tunnel, providing a chance to learn and witness the differences of the life residing in different levels of depth, creating a feeling of being in the deep blue sea.

Butterfly Garden (สวนผีเสื้อ) is a place where more than 20 varieties of local butterflies reside. It provides knowledge of the butterfly lifecycle and displays examples of stuffed butterflies for study purposes.

For those who wish to do camping at the park, there are various Wa Ko Camping Activities such as Scientific Camp, Environmental Camp, Astronomy Camp, Bird-camp, Camp for Physically Challenged Children, Energy Camp and a variety of activities such as bird watching, astronomical observation, walk rally, beach activities, and group activities. Moreover, there is accommodation provided for 120-200 persons, as well as, tents for camping. For reservations, please contact the Marketing Section, Tel. 0-3266 1098, 0 3266 1726, 0 3266 1103 during office hours, website: www.nfe.go.th/waghor or e-mail: waghor2411@hotmail.com. The park is open daily and free of charge from 9.00 a.m.-4.00 p.m. For a group visit, please deliver a letter in advance. For further information, please contact Tel. 0 3266 1098, 0 3266 1726-7 ext: 247 or Fax. 0 3266 1727.

To get there: From Mueang Prachuap Khiri Khan, go to the south for 12 kilometres along Phetchakasem Road until reaching Km. 335-336. There will be a path to Wa Ko on the left.

Amphoe Thap Sakae (อำเภอทับสะแก)

Hat Laem Kum (หาดแหลมกุ่ม) is at Mu 7, Na Hu Kwang Sub-district, 4 kilometres from the main road. It is very serene, suitable for relaxation and swimming. The beach is 5 kilometres long, lined up with pine and coconut trees. There are pavilions for admiring the scenery or enjoying meals.

To get there:

By car: From Highway No. 4, Km. 365, turn left for approximately 4 kilometres, cross the railway track to the beach or turn at Km. 370 and go straight on, following the direction signs for a distance of 4 kilometres.

By bus: Take the Bangkok - Bang Saphan Bus, get off at Udom Suk Market and continue with a service motorcycle to the beach.

By train: Take the Thon Buri - Lang Suan train and get off at Don Sai Railway Station, Thap Sakae District and continue with a service motorcycle.

Hat Wanakon National Park (อุทยานแห่งชาติหาดวนกร) was acclaimed a national park on 30 December, 1992. It became the 76th national park of the country and the 18th marine national park. It is a mixed deciduous forest generally comprising sparse woods and various shed-leaf plants mixed together such as Phai Pa - Bambusa bambos (L.) Voss, Burma Padauk - Pterocarpus indicus, Makha Mong - Afzelia xylocarpa. Originally, this area was a planted forest, mixed with a natural-grown one, which was just recovered. Planted trees are Salao - Lagerstroemia loudonii Binn., Tabaek - L. floribunda Jack, teak, Phayom - Shorea roxburghii G. Don, Son Thale ñ Horsetail tree, Son Padiphat - Casuarina junghuniana Miq. However, only few kinds of wild animals are discovered in this park. Birds found in this park include the black-naped orioles, Pacific reef-egrets, black drongos, Indian rollers and various other species. The park covers a water area of 15.36 square kilometres. Fish found are fresh-water fish such as catfish, snake-headed fish, climbing perch, Nile tilapia, and various kinds of sea fish. The beach is 7 kilometres long, lined with Horsetail trees. Within the compound of the national park, there are interesting attractions as follows:

Hat Wanakon (หาดวนกร) is a white sandy beach and hills stretching alternately towards the sea. On the beach lies a long line of pine trees parallel to the sea from Khlong Nam Chuet to Huai Ban Yang, being a distance of 7 kilometres. At low tide, the distance of the beach stretching to the sea is 150 metres.

Ao Makha (อ่าวมะค่า) is a bay bending from Ban Wang Duan to the mouth of Khlong Nam Chuet. Its characteristic is a steep rocky cliff by the sea. It is also a location of the National Park Ranger Station. Ko Chan and Ko Thai Si can be seen from this area.

Hua Krang and Hin Chuang Nature Study Routes (เส้นทางเดินศึกษาธรรมชาติหัวกรังและหินจวง) are similar to an outdoor classroom to learn and understand the relationship of nature, as well as, to create conscience to take care of nature. Each station will present the relationship of lives that need to depend on one another within this forest area, both plants and animals such as bamboos, Spondias bipinnata, Mangifera spp., ant's nests, anthills and various other lifeforms. There are overall 28 stations and 3 routes. The first one is 2 kilometres and takes 2 hours. The second one is 3.5 kilometres and takes 3 hours, while the third one is 6 kilometres and takes 4 hours.

Lan Khoi, Ko Chan and Ko Thai Si (ลานข่อย, เกาะจานและเกาะท้ายทรีย์) (It is a swallow's nest concession where there are coral reefs surrounding it.) For snorkelling, please contact the Office of the National Park.

By bus: Get off at Mueang Prachuap Khiri Khan and rent a Song Thaeo for a distance of 23 kilometres.

By train: Get off at Huai Yang Railway Station and continue by service car or motorcycle.

Namtok Huai Yang National Park (อุทยานแห่งชาติ น้ำตกห้วยยาง) covers an area of Mueang District, Thap Sakae District, and Bang Saphan District, being 161 square kilometres or 100,625 rai. Most of the area is steep mountains on the Tenasserim Range, 200 - 800 feet above sea level. It is an original source of water at the foot of the mountain bordering Thailand and the Union of Myanmar. It was acclaimed the 70th national park in Thailand on 8 December, 1991. The office of the national park is located in the area of Huai Yang Waterfall. The compound of the national park is a shady and relaxing atmosphere. Besides, there are many waterfalls such as Namtok Kha-on, Namtok Huai Hin Dat, Namtok Khao Lan and Namtok Bua Sawan.

Namtok Huai Yang (น้ำตกห้วยยาง) is a small 9-tiered waterfall near the office of the Huai Yang National Park. It is suitable for relaxation due to its beautiful scenery and interesting nature study route.

Namtok Khao Lan (น้ำตกเขาล้าน) is a beautiful waterfall of the Huai Yang National Park. To get there: Take Highway No. 4 (Phetchakasem Road) until passing the crossroads at Huai Yang Sub-district Police Station to the south for 13 kilometres. Make a U-turn and keep left at the Udomnan Plaza Market. Turn left into Khao Lan - Phuk Tabaek Road for 13 kilometres.

Namtok Huai Din Dat (น้ำตกห้วยดินดาบ) comprises a lower brook which is 6 metres wide and 5-tiered waterfall; each tier is closely connecting to one another. It is a waterfall situated in between a gap of quite high and steep mountains, 50 kilometres from the Office of the National Park to the south.

Namtok Kha-on (น้ำตกเขาอ่อน), Thap Mon (ทับมอญ) is located 60 kilometres from the Office of the National Park to the south, near the border with the Union of Myanmar within the area of Bang Saphan District. It can be visited in every season. It is a beautiful 9-tiered waterfall. Admiring the waterfall takes approximately 1 hour.

Pa Khao Luang (ป่าเขาหลวง) comprises the Tenasserim Range, that complexly has created a forest which is the source of the Huai Yang River. There is a steep cliff bordering Thailand and the Union of Myanmar. Trekking admirers can walk up to the Khao Luang summit for a distance of 7 kilometres or 5 hours. The highest summit is 1,251 metres high and is a viewpoint where the Tenasserim Range can be splendidly witnessed.

There are 2 bungalows provided in the park. Tourists will have to bring their own tents. Contact Namtok Huai Yang National Park, Huai Yang Sub-district, Thap Sakae District, Prachuap Khiri Khan 77130 at Tel. 0 3261 9743 or the Department of National Park, Wildlife and Flora, Bang Khen District, Bangkok, Tel. 0 2562 0760 or www.dnp.go.th.

To get there:

By car: From Mueang Prachuap Khiri Khan, go to the south along Phetchakasem Road to Km. 350-351 where there is a crossroads. Turn right into the Office of the National Park for 7 kilometres.

By train: Get off at Huai Yang Railway Station and continue with a service motorcycle.

Amphoe Bang Saphan (อำเภอบางสะพาน)

Ban Huai Kriap Tourism Centre (ศูนย์ท่องเที่ยวบ้านห้วยเกรียบ) is located in Tambon Thong Mongkhon, approximately 10 km. south of the junction to Amphoe Bang Saphan along Highway 4. The villagers here were immigrants from Laem Talumphuk in Nakhon Si Thammarat who suffered great inundation in 1962. The village is a production centre of rattan wickerwork of various forms with a typical characteristic in that Wai dam, literally black rattan, is used as part of the basketry; such as, bag, baskets of different shapes, dining set container, etc. Other available items are coconut shell products, furniture, garments, processed food, and so on. Homestay accommodation is also provided. Please contact the Ban Huai Kriap Community Centre at Tel. 08 9919 7836 for more details.

Hat Ban Krut (หาดบ้านกรูด) is located in the Ban Krut area, Thong Chai Sub-district. It is a 12 kilometres wide and a beautiful beach parallel to the beach road. Originally, there were plenty of bergamots - Makrut in Thai - which influenced the name of the beach. The atmosphere in this area is serene and shady with coconut trees. A fishing community is scattered along the beach. It is a place where tourists can experience the lifestyle of fishermen such as coastal fisheries, the seafood preservation process, and catching of jellyfish for export. Accommodation is provided in many areas.

To get there:

By car: Take Highway No. 4 (Phetchakasem Road) to Km. 382, turn left along the Phetchakasem - Ban Krut Road and cross the railway track for approximately 9 kilometres to the Ban Krut beach road.

By train: Get off at the Ban Krut Railway Station and continue with a service motorcycle.

By bus: Take the Bangkok - Bang Saphan Noi Bus and get off at the entrance to Ban Krut and continue with a service motorcycle or Song Thaeo.

Khao Thongchai (เขาธงชัย) is an important viewpoint of the Ban Krut Beach. From this point, the view of the bays and a line of coconut trees stretching as far as the eye can see can be admired. It is suitable for appreciating the sunrise and the sunset. Khao Thongchai is the enshrining place of 'Phra Phuttha Kitti Sirichai' or is locally called as 'Luangpho Yai', a Buddha image in the posture of meditation in the Gandhara style of art (influenced by Greek art through India). The image faces towards the sea. The locals of Bang Saphan constructed it and presented it to Her Majesty the Queen on the occasion of Her Majesty's 60th Birthday Anniversary. Moreover, on the mountain is situated the Prince of Chumphon Shrine, highly revered by the fishermen. The shrine is very outstanding on the summit of the Thongchai Mountain. It is believed that the Prince of Chumphon once stayed at this place to anchor a battleship. Therefore, a replica of an anchor was constructed at this shrine facing towards the sea. Within the compound is a decorative plant garden and a monastic residence. Besides, on this mountain is an enshrining venue of Phra Maha Chedi Kao Yot, a 3-tiered corn-shaped pagoda constructed by the Ban Krut locals on the auspicious occasion of the Fiftieth Anniversary Celebrations of His Majesty's Accession to the Throne. It is a viewpoint for admiring a stretching beach and beauty of the wide coconut grove. The combination of sand, sea, and line of coconut trees becomes a perfect scene of nature.

Hat Thang Sai (หาดทางสาย) is 5 kilometres from Hat Ban Krut by taking a beach road to the north, hugging around Khao Thongchai to the Thang Sai beach road.

It is a white sandy shady beach with coconut trees and pine trees.

Ko Ram Ra (เกาะรำรำ) is at Thongchai Sub-district (between Thap Sakae Sub-district and Bang Saphan District), 300 metres from the shore. It is a medium-size rock island with a small sandy beach and a surrounding coral reef. On the island live fishermen.

Ao Bo Thonglang (อ่าวบ่อทองหลาง) is 4 kilometres from Ao Mae Ramphueng along the beach road. There is a curving beach. When the tide goes down, the white sandy beach will appear as a wide space. People usually come to swim and relax because the level of the water is quite shallow and there are small rock islets lined up in front of the bay. In the beach area, there are restaurants providing food and drinks for tourists. To get there: Take Highway No. 4 to Km. 397 until reaching the crossroads into Bang Saphan District on the left. Go further along Highway 3169 and continue along Klang Ao Road by the beach to the entrance of Ao Bo Thonglang.

Wat Tham Ma Rong (วัดถ้ำม้าร้อง) is located at Ong Prasat Sub-district, 2 kilometres to the south from Bang Saphan District Office. Inside the cave comprise many chambers with various colours of lights, creating an admirable and interesting atmosphere within the cave. At one side of the cave is a long line of Buddha images. It is accessible by cars to the entrance of the cave.

Huai Nam Sap Forest Park (วนอุทยานห้วยน้ำซับ) is located at Mu 9 Ban Sai Phet, Tambon Thong Mongkhon and features the only place in the province to appreciate the red-orange blossoms of Po Khao (known among the locals as Kasalong), a plant in the STERCULIACEAE Family, in the month of February. Visitors have to walk to the top of the hill to see the flowers, which takes approximately half an hour. There are also many caves to be visited within the Forest Park. For further information, please contact Thong Mongkhon Subdistrict Administration Organization at Tel. 0 3269 0431-2 or Head of the Forest Park at Tel. 08 9836 4510.

Namtok Sai Khu (น้ำตกไทรคู่) is a medium waterfall located at Mu 6 Ban Khao Kaeo, Tambon Thong Mongkhon, approximately 20 km. from town to the west of Phetchakasem Road in the area of the Tenasserim Range. It has water all year round and comprises 9 picturesque tiers. The 2nd, 3rd, and 4th, tiers are not so large and good for relaxing and swimming. The most beautiful one is the 5th tier which features a wide cliff where two large banyan trees or Sai grow and hence, the name of the waterfall. Here, the water cascades for nearly 30 m. onto stones and down to the pool before flowing further down to become the 4th tier, which has shady surroundings and an atmosphere ideal for relaxing and swimming. Above the 5th tier, there is a large stone terrace with water flowing along a stone channel for some 50 m. and forms the 6th tier of the waterfall. The stone terrace of the 6th tier is a scenic viewpoint and accessible by climbing up the rather steep and damp cliff using hanging tree roots, which is ideal for adventure lovers. A number of wildlife can also be encountered around the waterfall. For more information, please contact the Thong Mongkhon Subdistrict Administration Organization at Tel. 0 3269 0431-2, and Ban Khao Kaeo Village Headman at Tel. 08 6177 9626.

To get there: Follow Phetchakasem Road to Km. 404, approximately 8 km. beyond the Bang Saphan Intersection and turn into Highway 3196 toward Ban Pong Ko for some 11 km.

Ao Mae Ramphueng (อ่าวแม่รำพึง) is 120 kilometres from Mueang Prachuap Khiri Khan. Take Highway No. 4 (Phetchakasem Road) to the crossroads into Bang Saphan District for approximately 17 kilometres. It is a beautiful beach with white sand and there is a beach road parallel to it. There are seafood restaurants provided for tourists. It is suitable for relaxation.

Amphoe Bang Saphan Noi

Hat Bang Boet (หาดบางเบ็ด) is located at Ban Bang Boet, Sai Thong Sub-district. It is a curving bay with a clean reddish-brown sandy beach and a stone mountain obstructing the entrance to the bay. During World War II, Bang Boet was famous for its watermelons which were large in size with sweet and crispy taste. They were planted in the farm of M.C. Sitthiporn Kridakon, a person who once mentioned "Money is an illusion, rice and fish are real". Pha Daeng is a red rock cliff, located next to Ban Bang Boet. Visitors can walk along the beach enjoying Pha Daeng.

To get there:

By car: Take Highway No. 4 (Phetchakasem Road) to Km. 425 (at Huai Sak T-junction), turn left into Highway No. 3497 for approximately 16 kilometres to Hat Bang Boet.

By bus: Take the Bangkok - Bang Saphan Noi bus and get off at Huai Sak T-junction and continue with a service motorcycle to Hat Bang Boet.

By train: Get off at Huai Sak or Bang Saphan Noi Railway Station, and call for a service car (if any) from your accommodation would be more convenient.

Ko Thalu, Ko Sang, Ko Sing (เกาะทะลุ เกาะสังข์ เกาะสิงห์) are small islands located close to one another. Travelling from Ban Nong Samet is approximately 7 kilometres or takes 30 minutes, while travelling by speed boat will take 15 minutes. Ko Thalu covers an area of 1,000 rai with the distance from the north to the south of 2 kilometres. Geographically, it comprises beaches, mountains and coconut groves with abundant and white sandy beaches such as Ao Muk (อ่าวมุก), surrounded by a serene atmosphere, delicate white sand and nice coloured sea, Ao Sai Yai (อ่าวไทรใหญ่), suitable for snorkelling, kayaking and sailing, Ao Thian (อ่าวเทียน), whose scenery is nice to be admired due to a large number of balsam plants - Thian in Thai - and corals swept by the sea tide to the east of the island and a stone cliff and large stone hole in the north of the island which took place because of the wind and sea water having eroded it and created a sea arch. This is the origin of the island's name. The area around Ko Thalu and Ko Sang is abundant with colourful shallow-water corals such as Staghorn Corals, Nobilis Cup Corals, Anemone Corals, and possess white sandy beaches suitable for those who love a peaceful and private atmosphere and admire snorkelling to witness the corals, sea fans and many beautiful fish. Moreover, tourists can do kayaking around the island which takes approximately $2\frac{1}{2}$ hours, as well as, other kinds of activities such as camping, trekking and mountain climbing. There are boats and accommodation provided for tourists. Contact Ban Pak Khlong Pier for boat rentals. It takes 20 minutes for travel.

To get there:

By car: From Phetchakasem Road, turn left at Km. 399 along Bang Saphan - the beach for 10 kilometres, passing Tha Kwian and Bang Saphan Markets. At Bang Saphan Market, turn right into Bang Saphan - Nong Hat Thai Road, passing Phong Prasat Sub-district Administration Organisation for 10 kilometres. Turn left at the crossroads in front of the police booth into Ko Thalu Pier.

By bus: Take the Bangkok - Bang Saphan Noi bus from the New Bangkok Southern Bus Terminal. It will pass the entrance of Ko Thalu Pier, taking approximately $5\frac{1}{2}$ hours.

TRAVEL TIPS

Forest Trek

- Enquire about the destination in order to prepare equipment properly.
- Prepare forest trekking equipment which is necessary and easy to use, such as sleeping bag, tent, plastic sheet, medicine, torch, pocket knife, insect repellent, compass, etc.
- Study the seasons of nature, such as flowers, migrating birds, etc. Prepare binoculars, notebook, pencil, pen and map.
- Study the route and check it with a map before travelling. Choose a path on the mountain ridge which is easier to walk on than the one in a valley. Strictly follow the authorities' advice.

Camping

- Prepare a tent, sleeping bag, plastic sheet, kitchen utensils such as a pot, gas range, oil lamp, dried food, drinking water, canvas shoes, hat, etc.
- Examine the direction of the wind before putting up a tent. The tent must be windward while a bonfire and a restroom leeward. The tent should be on a hill or highland, and on an open area beside a creek.
- Sweep pieces of grass and leaves before putting up a tent since they may be a habitat of insects or reptiles.
- Find fuel from pieces of wood in the forest or on the beach, and put out the bonfire before going to sleep.

- Keep the area clean in its original state after camping.

Temples / Museums / Ancient Remains

- Study information about the place to be visited. Contact a local speaker such as a monk or officer who can give you information.
- Dress politely and be composed. Take off your shoes before entering a religious building or area.
- Avoid touching an artefact or ancient monument, especially the reliefs or paintings to maintain their original condition. Avoid trespassing in a prohibited area or on an ancient monument and taking any parts of the artefacts or architecture.
- Avoid using a flash in photo-taking which may cause damage to the artefacts or architecture.
